Growing in Faith, Hope and Love

Tuesday, I woke up to the news that a high school classmate of mine had passed away. This makes two that I have lost in the last five years or so. It made me think. Travis came from a loving family. Both his parents and brothers are faithful members of the Lord's church. He grew up with me at Mobile Christian, and we were both in the youth group together. We played football together.

On paper, he had everything one would think to live a full, faithful and productive life. Now, I don't know the circumstances that led to his death and obviously anything can happen at any time, but it reminded me that just because our life seems perfect, does not mean that it is.

As Ray said this past Sunday, we have had around twelve responses to the invitation. That means at least twelve members of our congregation are struggling with something. I am sure there are many more who just have not felt compelled to walk the isle. We need to be checking up on each other daily. We need to be encouraging each other daily. From our teens and kids to the oldest members, we need each other! That is why God gave us His church. It is the ultimate support group! That is why coming together each week is so important, but it is not enough to just say hello on Sunday and leave it at that. We must be engaging with each other outside of Sunday morning worship. We need to be sure that everyone is having their needs met, whether that is physical, mental, emotional or spiritual, that is the duty of the Lord's church. That is why it is so important to have things like a strong youth group and kids group. They need encouragement, too, and especially from members outside of their immediate family. They say it takes a village to raise a child. I agree and we have an awesome village of people who are helping to shape our young people here at Summerdale. It also takes a village to raise a Christian and that does not have an age requirement.

So, I challenge all of us, myself included, to check up on your brothers and sisters this week. You never know how important and encouraging word can be!

Always remember you are loved!

Eric

THE SPIRITUAL AUDIT: IS YOUR FAITH AN ASSET OR A LIABILITY?

In the corporate world, quarterly audits are non-negotiable. Businesses scrutinize their ledgers, pivot their strategies, and trim the fat to ensure they haven't drifted from their mission statement. Yet, when it comes to the most vital enterprise of human existence—our relationship with the Divine—we often settle for a vague, unexamined "religiousness." We must ask ourselves: Is our faith a living organism or merely a historical monument? To move beyond a superficial faith, we must subject our souls to a series of "challenging inquiries." Let's consider some audits we need...

- The Knowledge Audit: Is Your Zeal Governed? - Zeal without knowledge is like a fire without a grate—it destroys rather than warms. We all wish to possess wisdom, but few are willing to pay the price of Study. The more you practice what you know, the more you will know what to practice. "Hear, my son, and be wise; and guide your heart in the way." (Proverbs 23:19)
- The Faith Audit: Does It Move You? - If your faith doesn't move you to action, it isn't faith; it's an opinion. Noah wasn't just "informed" about the flood; he was moved. "By faith Noah, being divinely warned of things not yet seen, moved with godly fear, prepared an ark for the saving of his household..." (Hebrews 11:7)
- The Love Audit: Is It Unselfish? - Love is not a commodity to be bought; it is a self-expenditure. You can give everything you own to the poor, but if it isn't fueled by agape, the ledger remains at zero. "And though I bestow all my goods to feed the poor, and though I give my body to be burned, but have not love, it profits me nothing." (I Corinthians 13:3)
- The Influence Audit: Do Others Follow Your Lead? - In John 12, the chief priests wanted to kill Lazarus—not because of what he said, but because his very existence caused others to believe. Does your life serve as a "guide to paradise," or are you spiritually invisible?
- The Mercy Audit: Do You Forgive as You Are Forgiven? - We often "hand people over to God's mercy" while refusing to show any ourselves. We act like the servant in Matthew 18 who was forgiven ten thousand talents but choked a fellow servant over a hundred pence. If you cannot show mercy, you have fundamentally misunderstood the Gospel.

The most haunting challenge for the modern Christian is the silent cry of the unreached. If we claim to hold the "Light of the World," why is the world still so dark? Nineteen hundred years have passed, Since disciples were told to go. You say you are Christ's disciples, and yet, His very last command has been disobeyed. Interest speaks all languages. If we truly cared, we would find a way to communicate. If our belief was truly "unspotted," our lives would be a magnetic force for the Truth. The acts of this life are the destiny of the next. Are you determined to press on? The sum of a prepared eternity is simply this: Believe what the Bible tells us and do what it says. "For if I preach the gospel, I have nothing to boast of, for necessity is laid upon me; yes, woe is me if I do not preach the gospel!" (I Corinthians 9:16)

You Are Loved,
Ray
